Programs and Services for Laid-off CSEA-represented New York State Employees

Skills for Success

Skills for Success courses provide CSEA-represented employees with the knowledge and skills needed to accomplish job assignments more effectively. Job skills training can also be supplemented with personal development opportunities from the Work and Life courses.

Tuition Benefits

The Tuition Benefits Program provides educational benefits to CSEA-represented NYS employees, enabling them to achieve greater career mobility and promotional opportunities, improve job skills, and prepare for future state workforce needs.

Online Learning

Online learning can help employees access job-related courses anytime, anywhere, gain knowledge for job skills, and personal development. The Partnership's Online Learning Program is FREE and has over 2,600 courses that cover topics such as business, safety and health, information technology, and computer skills.

Educational Advisement

Educational Advisement offers individual and confidential counseling services over the telephone to employees in the areas of professional development, educational planning, financial aid, and non-traditional approaches to further education.

The above programs and services are available to CSEA-represented employees for one year from date of separation from NYS service provided they are on a Civil Service Preferred List. Each are subject to funding availability.

For more information about the above programs and services and your eligibility as a laid-off employee, please contact the Partnership at:
